Photography Policy

Michigan State University is a 501(c)3 Educational Institution that operates MSU Tollgate. The Tollgate grounds are popular for education and photography. We want each guest experience to be memorable.

Photography – which encompasses film and digital, still and motion imagery – may be taken in public areas for personal use. Personal use means that the images will not be sold or used for any commercial purpose. Personal photographs or videos may be shared with friends, family, and social media web sites. Students must be prepared to show Student Identification. Non-profit photography classes, clubs or groups of three or more amateur photographers are required to call ahead so that we can put you on the schedule and let you know of any MSU Tollgate events that may limit your activities.

Commercial photographers like to use MSU Tollgate as their outdoor studio for photo and video shoots with clients. Photography for commercial use requires a Commercial Photography Permit. A commercial photographer is defined as a person, organization or company that directly or indirectly charges a fee for their photography services, sells their images in any way, or uses images of MSU Tollgate to sell any product or service. Photography instructors associated with for-profit organizations or companies are considered commercial photographers, and must follow all policies applicable to commercial photographers.

Please refer to the Commercial Photography Permit Application for additional information on the Permit’s fees and related terms and conditions.

News media commercial photographers who prominently display news media ID will be allowed to take photographs during regular business hours as long as they do not interfere with MSU Tollgate guests. News media photographers are required to provide notification in advance of their planned visit.

Guests taking personal or commercial photographs may visit the MSU Tollgate from dawn to dusk when the grounds are open to the public, with the exception that Commercial photographers may not use MSU Tollgate grounds on Sundays, or when the MSU Tollgate is being used for special events.

Photographers taking images for personal use may use tripods on MSU Tollgate grounds. Additional equipment, such as lights, ladders, and props, are prohibited without prior written permission from the MSU Tollgate Education Center. Without said permission, the photographer will be deemed a commercial photographer and asked to leave the grounds until a Commercial Photography Permit is acquired. This includes students doing work on class assignments, amateur photography clubs, and other photography students or hobbyists. All photographers must be courteous and use good judgment while photographing.

For the safety and enjoyment of MSU Tollgate, the following Rules of Photography Etiquette apply to all photographic activities on MSU Tollgate grounds. These rules are as much for your safety as it is for the safety, longevity, and conservation of the buildings and grounds of MSU Tollgate. This is a historical site and its historical value must be protected. The MSU Tollgate Education Center reserves the right to refuse permission or terminate a photography shoot, for personal or commercial use, at any time if a Tollgate representative deems a photographer’s behavior is not in the best interest of other guests or the MSU Tollgate Education Center.
